An answer supported by retrieved evidence

B02 saved records | 1 model call | 6 retrieved excerpts | Translated question and answer excerpts

Does a score above 1 mean more than 100% knockdown?

a Evidence actually passed to the model

[S3] OligoFormer article

"prediction score for each siRNA"

DOI: 10.1093/bioinformatics/btae577

[S2, S5] Official inference source

Y_PRED = [i*1.341 for i in Y_PRED]

scripts/infer.py @ e2f53ad63387

b Saved answer

No.

Prediction score

is not measured knockdown. [S1, S3]

Scaled by 1.341. [S2, S5]

English translations are labeled; source quotations are retained. This is not a webpage screenshot.

S1 is a project setting. This single question does not establish overall accuracy or Agent superiority.